

CRIMINAL JUSTICE / MENTAL HEALTH INFORMATION NETWORK

- ➔ A powerful new database to help you improve your understanding of the issue and what communities across the country are doing to respond.
- ➔ Relevant, useful information on criminal justice/mental health programs, research, legislation, media coverage, advocacy, and statewide coordinating efforts to support local programs.
- ➔ A tool for criminal justice/mental health professionals; consumers of mental health services, advocates, and family members; crime victims; and policymakers, researchers, and journalists.
- ➔ A platform for peer-to-peer networking.

LEARN MORE ABOUT ISSUES THAT ARE IMPORTANT TO YOU

What sort of training have police officers in other large urban departments received?

How are other mental health courts in my state funded?

How are other rural communities responding to this issue?

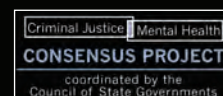

What does the research say about the average length of stay for people with mental illness incarcerated in local jails?

The InfoNet is the result of collaboration between the Council of State Government Criminal Justice/Mental Health Consensus Project and the National GAINS Center, with invaluable support from NAMI and other organizations. These organizations maintain their own Web sites with unique resources, but work together to provide a single, comprehensive database.

The InfoNet is made possible through the leadership, support, and collaboration of key private and federal agencies:

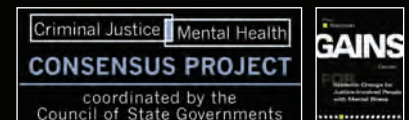

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

- ➔ Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA)
- ➔ National Institute of Corrections (NIC)
- ➔ Office for Victims of Crime (OVC)

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

- ➔ Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA)
- ➔ Center for Mental Health Services (CMHS)
